This letter is to confirm that Muhammad Muntazer Mehdi (██████████) worked with Alliance Tech Pvt Ltd as a Senior Full-Stack Engineer (Contract) and contributed to the successful delivery of multiple client-facing, production-grade software products.

Muntazer's primary and most significant contribution was as the sole full-stack engineer for PakRiceMarket, a live mobile marketplace built to digitize Pakistan's rice trading ecosystem. He led the project end-to-end, from system architecture and product definition to mobile application development, backend engineering, real-time bidding and messaging systems, a full web-based administrative platform, AI-powered market data automation, and complete ownership of app releases and post-launch stability.

In addition to PakRiceMarket, Muhammad contributed to several other commercial products, including:

- BackPack Buddies, a cross-platform social travel application with real-time chat, push notifications, and location-based discovery, delivered for both Android and iOS.
- Yo.Works, a video-based talent discovery platform for marketing agencies, featuring media-rich profiles, intelligent matching, real-time communication, and secure payment workflows.
- Kora, a youth-focused freelance marketplace built with React Native, where Muhammad delivered the complete mobile frontend, implemented role-based onboarding and navigation, integrated payments and real-time chat, and led a UX and product-scope overhaul aligned with a Swedish market focus.

- Meetwise, an AI-powered meeting assistant for automated meeting recording, transcription, and summarization.
- Contractly, a contract lifecycle management (CLM) platform designed to streamline complex legal workflows through a modular, audit-ready architecture.

Across all engagements, Muntazer consistently demonstrated strong technical ownership, sound architectural judgment, and the ability to independently deliver complex systems to production with minimal supervision.

Based on our experience, Muntazer is a highly capable engineer well-suited for senior and lead engineering roles, and we confidently recommend him for future opportunities.

Sincerely,
